

BBC News Article

Today saw the site featured in a news article on BBC News Online discussing the nosey neighbour element of OurProperty.co.uk.

The article titled 'Virtual Curtain Twitching' boosted our visitor numbers hugely with over two thousand people searching on the site within a five minute period at our busiest point today.

As a result of this BBC article, one of the staff here also took part in a BBC Radio Kent live interview, also increasing the number of visitors and signups by a great deal.
